“Do you have a passion for advocacy for Deaf, DeafBlind, Deaf with additional disabilities and hard of hearing Oregonians? Do you have lived experience as a member of one of these communities or as a hearing ally? Do you want to help advise Oregon Department of Human Services on its programs and services for your community? If so, please consider applying for a seat on Oregon Deaf and Hard of Hearing Service’s Advisory Committee!”

“There are several ways to apply:

- Download the PDF or Word application form from our website, which we will share at the end of this video. Complete the form, scan or take a clear photo of it, then email it to us at odhhs.info@dhsosha.state.or.us
- If you prefer to provide the information requested in the form in sign language, or to voice your answers, you can record your responses in any video format and email the link to odhhs.info@dhsosha.state.or.us
- You may also contact ODHHS staff to set up a video meeting with to sign or voice your responses.

The form asks you for information about how you identify, how you communicate, and an optional area to give gender, race and ethnicity information. The four questions on the second page are to learn more about you and what you can bring to the committee’s work. At the end of the application is a requirement to attend and participate in at least six meetings each year as well as on a subcommittee or workgroup. The Advisory Committee’s work is important, so please consider whether you can give this commitment. Attendance may be online, so no travel commitment is required.”
