The Commission approved restrictions to a recreational marijuana retailer license for the applicants of SWEET LEAF CANNABIS in Springfield. The application included one individual who has a poor record of compliance as a recreational marijuana licensee. The license restrictions require that the one individual not have any involvement in the operation or management of the business, not act as employee or agent of the business, and not be on the licensed premises at any time.

The Commission approved restrictions to a recreational marijuana producer license for the applicants of HEAVY LIDS. The application included one individual who has a poor record of compliance as a recreational marijuana licensee. The license restrictions require that the one individual not have any involvement in the operation or management of the business, not act as employee or agent of the business, and not be on the licensed premises at any time.

Commissioners also began the process for aligning OLCC marijuana rules with recent changes in statute approved by the 2021 Oregon Legislature. The rule changes will also address technical issues that have the OLCC's existing marijuana rules.
