
RADON MEASUREMENT Companies in Oregon

The following is a list of radon measurement companies servicing Oregon some of which have been certified by the National Environmental Health Association (NEHA) or the National Radon Safety Board (NRSB). Current listings of certified companies can be found at their respective web sites, e.g. www.neha.org or www.nrsb.org.

This list should be used for informational purposes only and is not intended to be an endorsement by the Oregon Department of Human Services of any testing device or company. These organizations are not the only sources of radon testing devices or services.

There may be additional companies listed in your local phone book under “Radon Testing.” There are additional organizations outside Oregon that can provide radon testing devices or services, and testing devices may be available through hardware stores.

Before purchasing, one should verify that the device or service meets the current requirements of the national certifying organizations, e.g. NEHA or NRSB.

The office of Radiation Protection Services has information available and can provide upon request a current list of all certified companies in neighboring states or nationwide that service Oregon. The following companies can provide radon kits and/or perform radon measurements in accordance with EPA protocols:
