

Did You Know the...

Simplest way to reduce the cost of your medications is to select generic drugs.

Always ask your doctor to write your prescription to allow for the use of a generic substitute.

Value- generic medications offer quality, safety, and effectiveness, at a significantly lower cost.

Inquire with your doctor to determine if there is a generic drug which is appropriate to treat your condition.

New generic drugs are continually becoming available. Ask your doctor or pharmacist at each visit if a generic is available.

Generic medications are *FDA-approved & contain the same active ingredients as their brand name counterparts.

Splitting tablets (when safe & appropriate) may offer additional savings. Ask your doctor or pharmacist if cutting a higher strength tablet in half to get your daily dose of medication is a possible option for you. This reduces the total # of pills you purchase.

The pharmacy will give you the lowest price available. For example, if they have a special price on one of your drugs that is less than OPDP's price, they will only charge you their special price.

** OTC—"over the counter" drugs that are not eligible for OPDP discount card, but are available at a low cost without a prescription.

*Oregon Health Policy & Research drew this list from studies by the OHSU Evidence-based Practice Center and State of Oregon Health Resources Commission.
