Overview

- Background
- Heavy-duty Omnibus Rule recent amendments
- Enforcement discretion/no penalty justification
- Next steps
- DEQ fleet transition support overview
- Questions and answers

Background

- What are the Clean Truck Rules?
- Why were these rules adopted?
- What has happened since the rules were adopted?

Who do these rules apply to?

- Manufacturers that offer new medium- and heavy-duty trucks and engines for sale in Oregon
- The rules do not apply to fleets
 - No specific fleet purchasing requirements

Recently adopted HDO amendments

- DEQ Director approved rule amendments in July
- Changes include:
 - HDO rules go into effect with engine model year 2025
 - replaces temporary rule adopted by EQC November 2023
 - Incorporated CARB 2023 amendments
 - allows the sale of a larger volume of legacy engines
 - Minor engine labeling updates
 - Clarified disadvantaged community locations

Enforcement discretion

- Enforcement Discretion/No Penalty Justification Memo
 - Applies to School Buses and Solid Waste Collection Vehicles
 - Engines in these vehicles effectively treated like other exempt engines (i.e. transit and emergency vehicles)
 - May increase total allowable legacy engine sales
 - DEQ plans to propose rule amendments to temporarily exempt these two sectors by first quarter of 2025
- Frequently Asked Questions document posted

Next steps

- Plan to propose HDO amendments in 2025
 - Exemption for school buses and solid waste collection vehicles from HDO rules for engine model year 2025
- Dealership outreach
- Track any CARB amendments to the HDO and Advanced Clean Truck rules

DEQ transition support

- Diesel Emissions Mitigation Grants – through 2027
- Diesel Emission Reduction Act (US EPA) Grants – ongoing
- Congestion Mitigation Air Quality Grants – ongoing
- Clean Fuels Program – credit market
- Oregon Zero Emission Fueling Infrastructure Grants
- Medium- and Heavy-Duty ZEV rebate incentive – new program beginning in 2025
