As a reminder, on August 06, 2024, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) issued an Emergency Order suspending all registrations of pesticides containing DCPA, marketed under the trade name Dacthal. EPA has determined that a suspension order is necessary to prevent an imminent hazard to human health. No person may distribute, sell, or use any pesticide containing DCPA.

Distribution of DCPA products for the sole purpose of returning the products to the registrant is allowed. Please see the letters from AMVAC for questions regarding product returns and disposal.

Following AMVAC's request to cancel all DCPA containing products on August 19, 2024, EPA has initiated the cancellation process for all DCPA product registrations as of August 28, 2024. For more information, please see EPA's News Release and DCPA Question and Answers page.
