OREGON SEISMIC SAFETY POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION (OSSPAC)

March 14, 2023

None.

Next Meeting.

The May meeting will be held in the New Treasury Building and will continue to be throughout July 2023

2. Reports

ODEM

- Althea Rizzo: OEM is continuing the work to stand up as its own and new agency.
- OEM Interim director Matt Garrett (Previously from ODOT) has been working hard with OEM and the agency is expecting to offer for the permanent position for the OEM Director the end of April/beginning of May.

DEQ

Continuing the Public Outreach process for the rule making surrounding SB 1567 they had a meeting this month that went well. The last public meeting before rule making begins will be April 21st.

Legislative Assembly

Rep. Gomberg updated the status of his proposal to provide disaster education in public schools. He said there were no expected problems moving it forward to the Senate.

State Resilience Officer

The Interim SRO was on the road so unable to attend. Brown said she was working with him on the Commission vacancies and would update at the next meeting.

3. Public Comment None.

4. Oregon Resilience Plan 10th Anniversary, Kent Yu, SEFT Consulting Group LLC & Jay Wilson, Clackamas County Disaster Management

Yu and Wilson co-presented with respect to their shared and individual experiences traveling to Japan, serving on OSSPAC, and their partnership during development of the Oregon Resilience Plan. Brown asked them to discuss their vision for next steps with respect to the ORP, and they agreed the 10-year marker was an opportunity to touch base in 2023. Wilson said he viewed the 10-year mark as a chance to celebrate the accomplishments. Yu added that he thought next steps for local government was to begin building local resilience plans. He emphasized throughout his presentation that the Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities (BRIC) grants were plentiful and a perfect funding opportunity for catastrophic resilience planning. Romanski asked for guidance on how to get a team together and how to have members to commit to the effort of creating an output to commemorate the 10th year of the ORP; Wilson said, like the ORP, he thought there were passionate stakeholders willing to support, and he reminded that the OSSPAC has provided the passion to completing the effort in the past.

6. Oregon CEI Hub 2050 Vision - Jay Wilson, Clackamas County Disaster Management

- This Briefing included information on
 - What they know
 - Old and aging infrastructure
 - Earthquake threat
 - Oil Spills
 - Spill impacts & Response
 - 2050 Vision
 - Ownership, Stewardship & Leadership
 - Policy and Strategy Alignment
 - Current CEI Hub Efforts
 - SB 1567 Rules Advisory Committee (RAC)
 - Risk Bonding for Oil Spills
- Jay Wilson is bringing this Vision to OSSPAC's attention that they may have merit. Asking that there may be an information hearing to bring these concepts and ideas in the public eye.

7. Legislative Subcommittee Update

- Brown provided a bill tracker that was attached to the Agenda Packet, and said the work group had met the previous week. She talked about a few initiatives and advised there wasn't much that was specific to seismic policy, though a number of them supported recommendations made in Commission reports (e.g. tsunami and mass care reports).
- She had recently attended an Emergency Management and Veterans Committee hearing, which primarily highlighted emergency management bills sponsored by Rep. Paul Evans.
- March 24th is the deadline for any bills moving forward

8. 2020-21 Annual Report Approval

Nagele made and Romanski seconded a motion to approve the Annual report, and the motion passed unanimously.
