

Have you received care
from OHSU or Legacy Health?

Tell us what you think!

Oregon Health and Science University (OHSU) is proposing to buy Legacy Health (Legacy). This means that Legacy will be a fully owned business of OHSU, and Legacy will be fully integrated into the OHSU system.

Oregon Health Authority's (OHA) Health Care Market Oversight (HCMO) program is reviewing this proposal to make sure it supports Oregon's goals of health equity, lower costs, increased access, and better care. And you can help! We'd like to hear from people who have received care at OHSU or Legacy, health care providers, health care experts, and consumer advocates.
