DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES

This position is located at an Air National Guard Wing. The Portland Air National Guard Base is home to the 142d Wing which is located in Portland, Oregon. The 142d Wing is responsible for providing conventional and special forces in support of National and State authorities any time, while defending the air sovereignty of the Pacific Northwest all of the time. The wing hosts three weapons systems that provide world renowned air-to-air combat pilots, special operators, and control and reporting center personnel. Also, as part of the Air National Guard, the wing serves the State of Oregon and our nation in times of peace and war. The incumbent is accountable to a wide variety of federal, state, and local authorities on all aspects of operations, personnel, equipment, funds, and real property. In addition, this position may have similar supervisory and/or support responsibilities for a non-flying unit which is geographically separated.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Directly and through deputy commanders, incumbent determines unit goals which are the foundation for long and short range planning and execution of all unit programs, and provides a focus for all unit functions and activities. Ensures goals coincide with national and state military strategies and local limitations. Considers factors such as current and future mission needs, political climate, environmental concerns, area demographics, and airfield and airspace operating conditions. May accommodate a variety of nontraditional military roles and missions such as foreign training, augmenting active Air Force training, disaster relief and drug interdiction. Incumbent is also responsible for general oversight and support of tenant organizations and geographically separated units. Provides guidance, resources, and other support similar to wing/group requirements.
2. Responsible for accomplishment of the unit mission flying program. Ensures flying hour/sortie program meets requirements, and the unit achieves mission training and/or combat readiness objectives. Makes critical judgments and decisions regarding the safety of aircrew and passengers in resolving inflight emergencies and subsequent rescue efforts if a mishap results. Requires on-the-spot decisions which may be irrevocable, and of life or death consequences.
3. Responsible for the availability of mission capable aircraft to meet unit flying program and alert/contingency requirements. Monitors adequacy of maintenance and repair actions/procedures and components. Assures timely identification of potential fleet integrity problems and notification of concerned major commands.
4. Responsible for the formulation, presentation, justification and execution of an allocated multi-million dollar budget involving several major force elements and state funds. Through subordinate managers, ensures supply inventories are kept at proper levels, Stock Fund authorization will support unit activity level; logistics plans meet mobilization/mobility requirements and support war plans; and the propriety, accuracy and timeliness of procurement/ contracting and payroll activities.

5. Directly and through a deputy commander, plans, organizes, directs, and controls real estate and facility construction, maintenance and repair, and utilization. Responsible for developing the Base Land Use and Facilities Master Plan which is the key element in determining land and structure needs, facility siting, construction/ modification, and future mission assignments. Responsible for the development and implementation of a variety of federal, state and local programs to ensure mission effectiveness: Hazard Abatement Program - Ensures the development of a plan which meets national, state, and local environmental requirements for proper disposal of hazardous waste, control of fuel spills, and for providing safe working conditions; Fraud, Waste and Abuse Program- Ensures compliance with accountability procedures, to detect embezzlement, theft, and other criminal activities; Health and Fitness Program- Ensures personnel are examined, evaluated, and receive medical treatment as required to be readily deployable world-wide, and able to withstand the rigors of warfare. Institutes fitness, wellness, and substance abuse programs; Public Affairs Program - Maintains a positive community climate through a variety of recurring and special events; Disaster Response Actions - Provides emergency service to the military, commercial carrier, and general aviation airfield users for airport/base crash/fire/rescue operations; Personnel Management - In conjunction with the Adjutant General's staff, and through subordinate staff members, plans, organizes, directs, and controls unit military and full-time personnel under several different personnel systems. Ensures manpower authorizations, grades, and specialties are adequate for the mission. Maintains military and full-time strength through recruiting and retention programs. Ensures Equal Employment Opportunity Program is effective. Implements federal and state military and civilian Merit Promotion, Incentive Award, and Suggestion Programs. Ensures fair and equitable contract negotiations and grievance resolution with labor unions. Establishes channels of communication within the unit which keep personnel informed, and provides feedback. Ensures adequate training for all aspects of assigned tasks, and maintains an effective leadership/career development program. Ensures appropriate disciplinary measures are taken when necessary.
6. Ensures adequate messing facility and provides meals as appropriate. Provides billeting for authorized personnel in accordance with standards. Authorizes and supports morale, welfare, and recreation programs within constraints. Through the Chaplain, provides religious services, and through the Judge Advocate, provides legal services.
7. Communicates and coordinates items of interest and potential adverse impact at the highest levels of national, state, and local political leadership. Represents the Air National Guard and state to foreign political and military dignitaries, including heads of state. Coordinates policies, plans, programs, and requirements as the senior leadership levels of the Air Force, Major Command, wartime gaining commands, National Guard Bureau, and the Adjutant General's Office. Serves on a broad range of committees and boards which formulate recommendations on policy, resource allocation, future planning, and provide feedback to leaders. Maintains liaison with national, state, and local governmental agencies such as FAA, EPA, law enforcement, disaster relief, airport management and others on matters of operational and environmental safety, protection of resources and dignitaries, and other issues of possible unit impact.
8. Negotiates and approves host/tenant agreements, memoranda of understanding, joint use and interservice agreements, leases, and licenses with military and civil agencies who provide and receive support, share resources, and interoperate with the unit.
9. Ensures proper and adequate security and safeguarding of property, aircraft and equipment, resources, and people entrusted to the unit/base. Develops Resource Protection Plan which identifies high value/risk assets, evaluates potential threats, and sets levels of protection. May authorize use of deadly force. Ensures classified documents and equipment are accounted for, controlled, stored and safeguarded.
10. Maintains mission readiness and compliance with directives as validated through the Inspector General and other review agencies. Ensures personnel are trained and exercised in their wartime skills. Demonstrates mission capability through a series of extensive Air Force inspections. Ensures required record and documentation of program are maintained.
11. Ensures a functional base information systems plan which provides for equipment/data security, communications, data processing, and audio/visual services.
12. Performs pilot duty requirements (if qualified).
13. Performs other duties as assigned.

SUPERVISORY CONTROLS:

Incumbent functions under the general supervision of the Adjutant General or designated senior staff member. Due to the unique command structure of the Air National Guard, incumbent is expected to exercise independent leadership and decision making. Incumbent applies pertinent directives to local use for proper accomplishment of assigned responsibilities, and exercises initiative and sound judgment in making managerial decisions and displaying leadership ability to ensure mission accomplishment.
