The Oregon Racing Commission is committed to upholding the highest standards of equine welfare and ethical treatment within the racing industry. As such, we oppose and condemn the practice of slaughter for any purpose, especially the disposal of retired or injured racehorses. We believe in promoting responsible ownership, facilitating avenues for rehoming and retirement, and supporting initiatives that ensure every equine athlete receives dignified care throughout their lives. We pledge to work tirelessly to enforce regulations that safeguard the well-being of all horses involved in racing, and we urge all stakeholders within the industry to join us in this crucial endeavor.

The mission of the Oregon Racing Commission is to regulate and facilitate all aspects of the pari-mutuel industry in the State of Oregon for the benefit of the citizenry, the licensees, the participants, and the economy.
